Excitement in a Belgian Town.

It is promised that it will not be long before a certain small town in Belgium is lighted by electricity. It appears that thirty years ago the municipality entered into a contract with the local gas company for the public lighting of the town. It was agreed that the price should be fixed at $3,000 per annum, the contract to exist for fifty-five years. Thus the agreement remains good for another twenty-five years. The municipality, seeing around cheaper gas and a more desirable light in the form of the electric light, have come to the conclusion that they are decidedly at a disadvantage. They say that the price which was considered just when the contract was made should now be reduced, as it is excessive when compared with other towns where only $1,000 per annum is paid for the same amount of light.

As the gas company refuses to reduce its price, complaints regarding defective lighting, which had previously been permitted to pass unnoticed, are now numerous, the inhabitants entering heartily into the spirit of the situation. According to the latest accounts the gas company had fallen on troublous times. The municipality had made up its mind that if it could not get the gas at a reasonable rate it would secure it at a low one, and possibly make a profit on the bargain.

The method adopted is decidedly rigorous. For every gas jet below the contract candle power a fine of forty cents is imposed; for each square of glass not properly cleaned, a fine of ten cents; a broken glass, ten cents; and for a lamp extinguished a fine of ten cents. The fine is affording immense gratification to the inhabitants of that quiet little town. It has seldom fallen on such a town. The way of a sensation, and it seems destined either to change of front or give up the ghost.

Skin Grafting by Machinery.

Saturday morning, at the Massachusetts General hospital, a little instrument, invented by Dr. Mixter, wonderful in its simplicity, constructed so as to separate quite large portions of epidermis from the subcutaneous tissue, was used for the first time.

The patient had been etherized, and had undergone an operation for the removal of a cancerous growth from the left breast, and the wound thus made was quite an extensive one. The instrument was applied to the anterior portion of the right thigh, and three strips, about an inch wide by six inches long, were taken off and transplanted to the exposed surface of the breast. The operation of removing the skin and transplanting it to its new quarters did not occupy more than about six minutes.

A very few days will suffice to restore the denuded surface of the thigh to its normal condition, leaving few traces of the reparative process to which it has contributed, and, other things being equal, the surface from which the cancerous tumor has been excised will heal over by first intention, thus saving the patient from a prolonged and painful period of convalescence. Of course, every precaution is taken, by the use of sterilizing processes and antiseptic solutions, to render the operation thoroughly aseptic, so that the chances of inflammatory disturbances from bacterial sources are reduced to the lowest minimum.

The thickness of these delicate human plasters probably does not exceed one-sixteenth of an inch, and the resulting hemorrhage is not more than what one sees on a slight abrasion of the skin, or it may be compared to the sanguineous coating one gets from too earnest torsorial attention.

JENKS' DREAM.

Jenks had a queer dream the other night. He thought he saw a prize-fighters' ring, and in the middle of it stood a doughy little champion who met and deliberately knocked over, one by one, a score or more of big, burly-looking fellows, as they advanced to the attack. Giant-like they were in size, the valiant pugilist proved more than a match for them. It was all an fun that Jenks woke up laughing. He accounts for the dream by the fact that he had just come to the conclusion, after trying nearly every big, drastic pill on the market, that Pierce's Pleasant Purgative was the only sugar-coated Granules, really "knock out" and beat all the big "hollow" ones. They are the original and genuine Little Liver Pills.

Beware of imitations, which contain poisonous minerals. Always ask for Dr. Pierce's Pills, which are Little Sugar-coated Pills, or Anti-Bilious Granules. One a Day.

SICK HEADACHE.

Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills. They are gently laxative, or strongly cathartic, according to size of dose. Smallest, Cheapest, Easiest to take. 25 cents a vial, by druggists.

W. G. CAFFEY, Secretary, Reno, Nevada, April 1, 1891, td

THE ITALIAN AFFAIR.

The war cloud which darkened the atmosphere a few days ago has disappeared. The Italian Government did not demand an answer to its note within twenty-four hours, as reported, and Minister Foster was not given his passports and ordered to leave Italy. Secretary Blaine has the gout and as that is an aristocratic disease the Italian Premier has too much regard for the proprieties of life to demand an immediate answer from a person afflicted with it, under threat of declaring war if the demand was not complied with.

The facts seem to be that the Italian Ministers are using Secretary Blaine's own tactics for political purposes. It will be remembered that Blaine the Brilliant, who is a man of resources and expediences, twisted the British lion's tail out of shape when he was a candidate for the Presidency, and secured the support of the Irish World by doing so, though as a matter of fact, when Secretary of State under President Garfield he permitted Daniel McSwiney, an American citizen, to languish in a British prison until the authorities became tired of boarding him and ordered him released. Now the Italian Government, with no intention whatever of going to war with the United States, is turning the New Orleans incident to personal advantage by making it a pretext for heavy expenditures for the army and navy, and consequent high taxation of property.

As proof that the Italian Government does not mean war, and is only adopting the American electioneering method of breg and bluster, Baron Fava, who sailed for Europe last Saturday, authorized Dr. Roversi, of Il Progresso Itala Americana, to state in his paper that he was only going to Italy on leave of absence, that he is still the Italian Minister at Washington, and that the war-like dispatches from Rome are inspired by the French, who would like to see Italy involved in a war with the United States, or possibly by the Vatican, which has no love for the King of Italy.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRIP.

President Harrison, with his wife and sister, private secretary and two members of his Cabinet, left Washington last evening on a tour through the South and West, or what is termed in political parlance "a swing round the circle." The party will visit some of the prominent cities of the South and travel to the Pacific Coast. The party will travel by way of Los Angeles to San Francisco, and return by way of Portland, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha and Indianapolis, unless some unforeseen circumstances, as in the case of Secretary Proctor, may cause a change in the programme. The party has been invited to visit many cities on the Pacific Coast, and will doubtless accept an invitation to visit the capital of California.

It is the first time that a constitutionally elected President has left Washington to visit the Pacific Coast. Hayes did so, but three-fourths of the people of the United States did not believe that he was the rightful President and his visit did not create much enthusiasm though the Federal office-holder endeavored to make it appear otherwise. In the present instance President Harrison, though he did not receive a majority of the popular vote, was elected chief magistrate of the United States, and as such will be respected by the people in every section of the country.

BLAINE WILL NOT DECLINE.

Washington political circles are somewhat excited over the announcement that Secretary Blaine has decided to enter the lists for the Presidential nomination. It is stated that two of Mr. Blaine's friends asked his consent to go to work fixing a delegation for him in the National Convention in 1892. Mr. Blaine was not particularly anxious to enter the lists and said he could not be a candidate against Harrison; but he assured his friends that while he was not a pronounced candidate he would not withdraw his name nor write a letter of declination in the event of his name being brought before the Convention.

Mr. Blaine is said to be so much chagrined at the President's interference with his reciprocity plans, and especially with his sudden interruption of the Canadian conference, that he concluded to throw out a gentle hint that he might be in the field, for the President to consider on his tour. The President fears him more than any man in the party, as he thinks he is the only person who can possibly prevent his re-nomination, and while Mr. Blaine is not openly against him he tells his friends that he is narrow and meddling.

The Secretary's ambition is to negotiate reciprocity treaties with neighboring countries, that is, admit the products of these countries free of duty if they will do likewise with the products of the United States. This is against the spirit of the McKinley bill, and therefore not in accord with the President's views of the tariff.

Ex-Governor R. W. Waterman, of California, died Sunday night at San Diego, of pneumonia. He was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1886, and in consequence of the death of Washington Barlett, who was elected Governor on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Waterman became Governor. His administration was noted for the number of prisoners whom he pardoned.

BY TELEGRAPH!

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

Great Suffering in Chili.

PANAMA, April 13.—Mail advices from Africa state that many refugees are coming from Iquique. A correspondent there writes that vagabonds are robbing, plundering, violating women and committing all classes of atrocities. White incendiaries are also engaged in destruction and pillage. The Government of Chili is reported to be engaged in establishing an army 20,000 strong at Tarapaca. The distress along the south coast due to the revolution is appalling. A correspondent at Lima writes that 400 refugees, who arrived on the last steamer were so destitute they had to remain on the wharf. The Commandant at Iquique was selling flour at 22 cents per pound. Fighting between the Government forces and the rebels near Iquique resulted in a victory for the latter. About 700 men in all were killed. The Lima paper published a message from Iquique received by the English Minister saying that the triumph of the rebels on the 7th of March was decisive, and Balmaceda's troops were knocked to pieces. Hundreds of people have abandoned the nitrate works, and accompanied by their families trudged across the desert to Iquique. The scene is of a nature which hardly finds an equal in the history of war. Many died on the desert and their bones will mark for many days the road to the now abandoned nitrate factories. The Chilean Ministers to Argentine and France have been declared traitors by President Balmaceda. A $250,000 Fire. ELIZABETH, N. J., April 13.—The principal business block of this city, the Arcade building, owned by Ames Clark and occupied by the postoffice, First National Bank and a number of stores, was burned today. The loss is estimated at $250,000. The fire started by some varnish boiling over in Chew's frame store in the Arcade building. The inmates of the building were able to save but little of their goods and some almost lost their lives. A. H. Clark was nearly suffocated in his office and was rescued at a window. Ex-Judge Alward was found partially overcome on the stairs. Hon. Foster M. Voorhees was rescued from his office. The postoffice furniture and most of the equipment was consumed. Letters were thrust into mail bags and carried to a place of safety. The telephone company's loss is great and the system rendered useless. All records of the Third Regiment, whose Armory was in the building, were consumed. Western States Commercial Congress. KANSAS CITY, April 13.—A number of delegates arrived here today to attend the first Western States Commercial Congress in this city to-morrow. The need of a Congress, as set forth in the Kansas Legislature's resolution, was suggested by a demand coming from the people for clearer light upon those questions which affect their material welfare. The West and South are seeking an adjustment to conditions which result from their marvellous growth, and to promote that end will be one of the objects of the convention. The interests of the two sections are reciprocal and the welfare of both demands closer commercial relations. The Congress will not be wholly a western affair. There will be papers read from Erasmus Wiman on "Reciprocity," Edward Atkinson on the "Money Question" and several from other prominent easterners. Dissolution of Dreibund Discussed. BOSTON, April 13.—Premier Rudini in an interview to-day in regard to Dreibund, held that the renewal of a triple alliance was of secondary importance, as compared with a constant agreement with England. Italy's renewal of her contract with the alliance depended on the general situation in Europe, which was now changing every day. It was difficult to imagine how England and Italy would remain passive while war was being waged by Russia and France against Germany and Austria, even if the Dreibund did not exist. Rudini declared that he was convinced that France, despite her excessive armaments, would never long wage a war of aggression while Dreibund continued to act as a safeguard of Europe. In view of the prevailing temper in France it was perfectly idle to discuss the question of the dissolution of Dreibund. Killed by Indians. BLACKFOOT, Idaho, April 13.—Great excitement was caused this afternoon over the killing by Indians of two unknown white emigrants who were encamped a mile below this place. Nothing could be learned as to the cause of the tragedy. Their bodies were found by a party of men and a number of Indians seen taking to the hills east of here. Business is suspended and the citizens are up in arms. About one hundred armed mounted men left the city to demand the surrender of the guilty parties. Should the Indians refuse trouble is sure to follow, as the posse are all determined men. The Government and Adjutant General have been telegraphed to in regard to the affair.

The Direct Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Many States that expected to realize the entire amount of their contributions to the direct tax are to be disappointed. The scrutiny of the Refunding Act by the First Comptroller has satisfied him that the United States Government may claim offsets against all States wherein the tax was not collected from individuals directly by the Government. He has been searching the records for such offsets, and here are some he has already discovered on accounts of quotas of arms, ammunition, etc., over issued up to 87: California, $8,110; New Mexico, $5,597; Washington, $3,985. Had the old law continued in force any of these States might have made accounts square by diminishing the amounts of their requisitions, but after the new militia law of 1887 passed this course could not have been pursued. The Riot Act Read. LONDON, April 13.—Ten thousand striking weavers assembled at Bradford to-day to protest against the action of the municipal authorities in forbidding a meeting which the strikers had arranged for yesterday. The police vainly tried to disperse the gathering. Finally the Riot Act was read and the military summoned. The soldiers joined forces with the police and a combined charge was made upon the ranks of the stubborn strikers. A fierce struggle ensued, but the strikers were unable to resist the increased force and were compelled to retreat before bayonets and batons. The police used batons very freely and many strikers were injured, some of the police were also hurt during the fight. Secretary Blaine Has Not Yet Replied. WASHINGTON, April 13.—It was learned to-day that Secretary Blaine's answer to Marquis Rudini's last note has not yet been forwarded. It was probably the Secretary's purpose to accompany the reply with an official statement touching the nationality of the New Orleans victims and other facts that were expected from the officials of the Department of Justice in New Orleans. These reports have not yet reached Washington. Unless the Secretary is prepared to send a letter without these facts it is not likely to go forward immediately. General Baum Very Ill. CHICAGO, April 13.—General Baum, Commissioner of Pensions, is seriously ill at the Grand Pacific Hotel. He has been ailing several weeks with a cold and symptoms of the grip. He came to Chicago a short time ago in the hopes that rest would build him up. He has, however, not improved, and this morning was very ill. Baseball. ST. LOUIS, April 13.—St. Louis, 13; Cincinnati, 6. WASHINGTON, April 13.—Boston 6; Washington, 0. BALTIMORE, April 13.—Baltimore, 3; Athletic, 4. Quo Warranto Proceedings. NEW HAVEN, April 13.—An important move in the political contest is expected to-morrow before Judge Prentiss in the Superior Court in the shape of quo warranto proceedings by the Democratic Governor and Lieutenant Governor against the Republican incumbents. Supervising Architect. WASHINGTON, April 13.—W. J. Edbrooke of Chicago has been appointed Supervising Architect of the Treasury. A Correction. ED. JOURNAL.—In your report of the meeting at the courthouse last Saturday you made me say that the Grand Jury found $12,000 needless expenditures last year. What I stated was, that from investigations by the Jury, it was my opinion that such was the case. So far as I know the Jury expressed no opinion on that point. I feel sure it was a mistake on your part and that you will set me right. H. H. BROOK. April 12th, 1900. Dr. Herdan has applied for a patent on a medicine invented by himself called "Self Helper" for private diseases, which he claims is the greatest medicine yet produced. He has refused $2,500 for it, but will form a company and place it on sale in every drug store in the United States. Nearly thirty thousand immigrants from Europe were landed on our shores during the month of March. Of these 7,869 were from Italy, 7,087 from Germany, 4,386 from Great Britain and Ireland, 3,589 from Hungary, 3,484 from Austria and 2,923 from Russia. A recent number of the American Rural Home says: "Five acres is quite enough for a man with small capital and but little experience to commence with. Then, if he plant half an acre to strawberries, half an acre to currants, one acre to blackberries and one acre to grapes, he will probably find full employment for capital and calculation for the first three years, at least. It is our opinion that, more clear money has been made from five-acre plantations of small fruits than from fifty acres, and more from ten acres than from twenty acres."

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." ## BREVITIES

Alvaro Evans left last night for Washington State.

Sheriff Polk, of Elko county, left for home last night.

Mrs. W. W. Fulmer is here visiting her sister Mrs. Ed. Barber.

Sol Levy has gone to San Francisco to select a stock of goods.

Senator Spruille, of the Elko Free Press, visited Reno last Sunday.

S. S. Sears, ex-Indian Agent, passed through to Carson yesterday.

Nevada Lodge No. 5, A. O. U. W., will hold its regular meeting this evening.

The delinquent sale of the Essex Ice Company is postponed until April 27th, next.

S. W. Peek has established a house letting and collection agency. See 50-cent column.

George E. Holesworth has moved to his new and handsome cottage in Haydon & Shoemaker's Addition.

The weather continues disagreeable, and though it threatens rain daily, it does not seem disposed to storm.

W. D. C. Gibson, Superintendent of the Stewart Institute at Carson, arrived on last night's train from the Capital.

J. G. Holloway arrived from Winnemucca Sunday evening. He says it rained quite lively on the Humboldt last Saturday.

About 100 men are at work in Bodie. Business is picking up and the camp has a better outlook than it has had for several years.

O. Lonkey of Verdi spent yesterday in Reno. He owns a large tract of timber, and is largely interested in the Verdi saw mill, which supply Reno with lumber.

It is reported that Superintendent McParlin, of Pinkerton's Detective Agency, at Denver, will arrive here to-night to attend the examination of Hale or Horn to-morrow.

The machine which runs the arc or street lights burned out Saturday night after midnight and the streets will be dark at night until a new machine, ordered by express, arrives.

The High School pupils will give a dance at the Pavilion Friday evening, May 1st. In addition to the usual programme there will be a May pole dance by about forty young people.

Mrs. King, the "cattle queen" of Corpus Christie, Texas, recently sold 15,000 head of two-year-old steers for $82,000, probably the largest single order for cattle ever filled in Texas.

Invitation cards are out for the marriage of Harry Davis and Miss Fannie Barnett, formerly of Reno, which is to take place at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas Barnett, 244 Oak street, San Francisco, Sunday, April 19th, at 1 o'clock P. M.

Governor Colcord spent Sunday and yesterday in Reno, and with Regent Fish and President Jones located a site for the laboratory which is to be built at the State University. He also visited the Insane Asylum, as the guest of Superintendent Thoma.

D. M. Bull, the inventor of the reciprocating lever motor wheel, offers 150 shares of the stock for sale at $20 per share. That is all the stock that will be sold at any price at the present time. The machine is about completed and will be started in a few weeks.

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held yesterday the sewer bonds were disposed of to R. Kirman of Virginia City at par. The bonds draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. Thursday next the Board will act upon the purchase of parks.

Londoners consume 30,000,000 gallons of milk—or what is sold as milk—per annum and pay £50,000 for it. London milk has just now a bad notoriety. Of the samples examined last year by the local Government Board inspectors 21 per cent. were found to be adulterated.

Farmer J. C. Lewis and his company of twenty talented artists will appear in Si Plunkard, which is said to be the best Yankee play ever written, at McKiesick's Opera House to-morrow, Wednesday night. Everybody talks of going to the show. Secure your seats at Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

The Carson City elections will be conducted under the Australian ballot system, which provides among other things that the names of candidates must be filed twenty days prior to the election with the city clerk in municipal elections and the county clerk in general elections. Three or more citizens can nominate a candidate or full ticket.

An ingenious contrivance may be seen at Beebe & Thomas' shop at the Opera House. It is made of two coal oil cans, one placed above the other, connected with pipes. When the top can is filled with water it causes a miniature fountain to play and throw a small stream of water higher than the top of the upper can for nine hours, and when the top can is empty the water is all in the lower can.

His Answers to the Charges Made Against Him.

EDITOR JOURNAL: You will much oblige me by giving space in your paper to an answer to the cowardly attack made on me by your neighbor, the Gazette, on last Friday evening. I may explain that until today I intended not to answer in this manner, but several personal friends think I owe it to myself as well as them to make a response in print. I promise you, however, that I will not abuse your indulgence by asking space for a prolonged controversy with a newspaper man who has too many advantages of me.

THE ANSWERS.

First then for the answers: My friends ask me why such an assassinlike attack from one whom they supposed was my friend? My opinion is that very few know the real cause, for it must be obvious to most readers that my card published in his own paper in answer to his attack on the private business affairs of my milling concern was not sufficient justification for his billingsgate. No, my card was simply a pretext; the real cause will never be made known by him. If any one wishes my opinion as to the real cause for so much vituperation let me suggest that it may be found in the fact that I have been working with several other taxpayers of the county to bring to justice a lot of hoodlers of our county treasury. The investigations of the Grand Jury disclosed the fact that very many sums of money, large and small, have been illegally and shamefully taken from the county funds. Some of this hoodle has been traced to and is still in the hands of the Gazette man. Just how much it amounts to I can't say now, but if I live I will try to find out and will then tell you. He dislikes the idea of giving this back, but if the matter of investigation and prosecution goes on he will have to cover it back into the treasury as did the other member of the printing ring. Hence, it seems necessary to stop investigation into the illegal manner in which so much of the county money is paid out, and it would seem, too, that some of the hoodlers believe that by "killing Old Beck" further proceedings will come to an end. I don't think so, but no matter. I am not vain, even though the Gazette man would make much of me. His pathetic appeal in behalf of Commissioner Hymers is touching. No doubt Tom feels for Mr. Bragg as Mr. Bragg feels for Tom; a kind of fellow-feeling as it were, and under the present circumstances what more natural? Hence, those tears.

THE SPECIFIC CHARGES.

As for the specific charges, let me say: First in order, Mr. Bragg asserts that I am two-faced. Well, now, this is something new. Many hard things have been said about me by the hoodlers, but until now it was never said that I pretended one thing while doing another. Ask your pals, Mr. Bragg, and see if they don't tell you you are off your base on this count.

Second, Mr. Bragg thinks my political record is black as night. This is a stem-winder, but as the charge is so broad and so general, even though not vague, it is hard for me to meet it. Possibly, however, it will be sufficient to say that it was never charged against me that I used my political influence for personal or pecuniary gain. Can the Gazette man say as much?

Third, it seems to the discordant brain of my accuser that I am a "breeder of moral pestilence." In answer to this charge I think I must throw myself on the mercy of the court. Had he said the grasshopper plague or the gripe I might have pleaded guilty.

Fourth, To the distempered vision of the Gazette man I seem never so happy as when engaged in controversy with my neighbors who are so unfortunate as to hold public office. In this accusation I feel that he was more or less justified in making the charge. In fact, I should not be surprised if he could prove it by every hoodler in the county.

Fifth, I am charged with pursuing Commissioner Hymers for fifteen years with the venom of a rattlesnake. Well! Well! I didn't think it was as bad as that, and did I not now see the assertion in print I would not believe it. But I fear my accuser was acting under duress or undue influence. My opinion heretofore has been that it was the several Grand Jurors instead of myself who have been pursuing our Tom—poor Tom. But what a coincidence this suggests to the mind. How much this unpleasantness in our official affairs is like unto that of the breaking up of the famous Tweed ring in New York some eighteen years ago. It is said that Boss Tweed never saw anybody connected with the prosecution of the gang but Governor Tilden. He cared naught for police or Grand Jurors, but that "damned old Tilden" could not be silenced.

Sixth, The public is apprised that I was politically dead and buried years ago until Senator Stewart dug up my malodorous corpse and set my tongue of slander in motion against my neighbor. Now, I submit that this is a sockdolager or rather a series of sockdolagers in one volume, as it were. The intention of the first few lines is plain enough. He says I was dead politically. I guess this is so, and for that matter he would not have been far wrong if he had added that I am still dead. But it would appear from the graphic pen of my censor that there was a resurrection. That I was dug up. That Senator Stewart did the digging. Yes, the whole legend is that he dug up my malodorous corpse. But here, Mr. Editor, I am at a loss. I don't know who the guilty one is in this grave-digging business. I don't know whether the Gazette man lays his charge

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

against Senator Stewart for digging me up, or against me for allowing myself to be dug up. As a lawyer would say, the averment is void because of uncertainty. I am sorry for Mr. Bragg that this should be so, for it is evident that had he been more careful of his English, this charge would have been a corker.

IN CONCLUSION.

Next, and in conclusion, the bilious editor introduces me to the public by inserting what he claims to be my likeness, and which he says speaks louder than words. But I submit that the picture does not resemble me in any particular. My wife and children who know me best fail to find any family resemblance whatever, and then too, Dr. Hogan, who has been my family physician for many years, avers that, anatomically speaking, there is nothing in my physical makeup to justify any one in saying it looks like me. But still I have charity enough to admit that the Gazette man thinks it looks like me. It has been said that no two persons see alike, so I give him the benefit of the doubt. Then, too, it is well-known that the vision may be affected by natural causes. Where the normal sense of seeing sees only ordinary and harmless things, another under certain influences will behold snakes, hobgoblins and all manner of uncanny subjects. I think the Gazette man needs medical attention at once.

THEY ELOPED ON A RAFT.

A LUMBERMAN STEALS HIS BRIDE
FROM HER FATHER'S BOAT.

A Romantic Idyl from the Wilds of the Pennsylvania Backwoods Country—An Irate Father Outwitted—His Opposition
Was Only Spiteful.
A lumberman dressed in woodsman
style came hurriedly into the union depot. Leaning on his arm was a pretty girl about eighteen years old. Her panting breath and fiery cheeks gave evidence of her excitement, which was seemingly made more intense by their rapid walking. Following them was another lumberman, more nervous than the first. He seemed to be on guard, and kept his eyes turned toward the rear ranks. He said nothing until his proteges were on board the day express for the east. A few minutes afterward
an older man, with an air of business, elbowed his way through the crowd and confronted the woodsman.

They started an animated conversation about the couple who had just boarded the train, and for a few moments it seemed that a fight would take place.
Kindly advice from a bystander saved them from the officers, however, and the two walked off together. Later in the day the older man appeared at the depot and bought a ticket to Brady's Bend, on the Allegheny Valley railroad.
He was approached by a reporter and readily consented to tell the story.

His name was Andrew Myers. The girl who had been carried off by the uncouth woodsman was a daughter of Myers. They had eloped from her father's lumber raft. The daring act took place near Brady's Bend, and was the crowning act of a romance made exciting by a determined lover, an irate
father and a faithful girl, whose respect for her father's wishes had hitherto prevented a clandestine marriage.

FATHER AND LOVER FIGHT.
The trio live on the Clarion river near Clarington. They are well known in the lumber country. The younger man's name is Frank Snyder. He is prosperous in the woods, and is considered a good business man, but he is rough in his way, and for that reason was not considered by Myers fit to be his daughter's lover. Miss Myers thought differently, however, and for a year insisted on receiving the attentions of Snyder. Nevertheless she refused to elope with her lover, and would only answer "wait."

The rafting season on the Clarion river commenced. Both Myers and Snyder had timber to run to market, and were constantly thrown in each other's way at the river bank. When the rafts were nearly ready to be started they accidentally commenced talking about Miss Myers. Kindly expressions led to insinuations, and then a war of words, which was quickly followed by a blow from Myers. A moment more and both were rolling in the mud. They were soon separated, but not until Snyder had made a vow to get the girl. Myers heard the words and became equally determined that his enemy should never be his son-in-law.

A few hours more and both were to start down the river. Myers was afraid to leave his daughter behind, and giving an excuse the statement that he wanted her to cook for the men, he brought her on the raft and gave her quarters in the rough shanty which is frequently built on large rafts. Snyder saw the object of Myers' move, and when the latter pulled out with his raft Snyder quickly followed with his own.

PAPA COMES TOO LATE.
Both rafts arrived at Brady's Bend
shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday night.
Myers pulled in to tie up for the night,
and when about to land Snyder's raft came up. He was acting as pilot himself, and seeing Mrs. Myers standing on the river edge of her father's raft, he ordered his men to pull in such a way that his own raft ran close to that of Myers. When at the nearest point he jumped from his oar, grabbed the young girl, and as he leaped back, yelled at his men to pull into the current. It was a daring act, but Snyder had been victorious, and found no trouble in persuading Miss Myers to give her consent to their marriage when the opportunity came. He knew Myers would follow, however, and to make sure their escape
he determined to run at night.

They arrived at Sharpsburg next morning. Meantime Myers had come to Pittsburg, and was waiting at Herr's Island for Snyder and his game. But they didn't come. They guessed what he would do, and left him down the river while they went to Union depot on a cable car. Myers heard of this trick about 7:30 and went to intercept it, but he was too late. The woodsman met at Union depot explained the occurrence leading to the flight, and told Mr. Myers that they were going to Camden, N. J., to get married.

Mr. Myers was still angry when seen at the Home hotel. He confessed that Snyder was a suitable man for any sensible girl, and his chief grievance seemed to be that his daughter should go on a bridal tour with a man whose wedding outfit would startle civilization. Nevertheless he admitted that Snyder had better clothes at home, and his last remark was that if Snyder had made much money lately he would forgive him—
Pittsburg Cor. Oil City Derrick.

Young Heads and Old.
Daughter—You should have turned down the upper corners of your visiting cards, ma, when you called on the bride.
That means congratulation. But you turned down the lower corners. That means condolence.
Matron (with dignity)—You'd better
wait till you are married before you criticize your ma.—New York Weekly.

The Powers That Be.
First Congressman—What do you think of Senator Saphard's bill?
Second Congressman—I opposed it at first, but lately I have found so much popular opposition to it that I am inclined to think it must be a good thing.
—Good News.
